Sleeping at Ten O'Clock. The Assistant Secretary of State sent the following telegram to-night to Lowell, the United States Minister at London: "The President is progressing satisfactorily. He is now, at 10 p.m., in a refreshing sleep. His temperature has fallen nearly one degree since yesterday. The drainage of the wound to-day was efficient and spontaneous, and he has taken more nourishment than on any day for five days."

In Every Way Encouraging. Signs of improvement in the President's condition began to be apparent to-day soon in the afternoon. His pulse, which had been high during the earlier part of the day, and which indicated more than ordinary weakness, fell from 110 to 104 in the course of the the wound is once more in a healthy condi-tion and free from retained pus; and second, that the disturbance caused by the operation of Monday has nearly subsided. that this feeling has given place to one of entire confidence again. Dr. Bliss said to-night that the President was doing well. He is now able to take more nourishment, and so far has experienced no recurrence of the distressing nansea which followed the last operation. The new incision is still very sensitive to the touch, and even the laying of a piece of lint saturated with carbolized oil upon the raw flesh at the mouth of the cut causes pain. In fever. Dr. Bliss attributed the rise of pulse to the general debility of the President. The President's skin," said the Doctor, "at I o'clock was cool and soft; there is no fever noticeable." The fact is patent that there is a good deal more alarm outside the White House than there is in it. The wound still continues to suppurate without the use of drainage tubes. This morning Dr. Bliss sent a mounted messenger to a drug store for oakum, which, it is thought, is to be used instead of the lint dressing, as it is cooler. It was this debility INTERISTIANTLY in Germany is still showing its zeal and purity by persecuting the people of Christ's nationality, burning their houses, and plundering their property. The monopolists are in trouble because we are paying off the national debt, and they ask what the president is very weak. Physicians claim that he is progressing nicely, and will be all right again in a day or two. PITTSFIELD, MASS., August 10.-The dis-

case which effected Judge Colt, of the Su-preme Court, who committed suicide yesterday, Dr. Adams says, was hypochondria, usually beginning with indigestion, and when confirmed it becomes a form of insanity. He was subject to special waves of gloom and distress lasting from a few minutes to an hour. The physician's theory is that while under one of these spells the act was com-mitted. There was this much premeditation only about the suicide—that he had to go from his library to a back room, open a drawer, get his revolver, walk back to his office and commit the fatal act. Dr. Adams thinks that had the pistol missed fire the attempt would not have been repeated, as he would by that time have recovered his ordinary frame of mind. Dr. Adams had a conversation with him Tuesday. The Judge said that he was only able to write about a page a day, and that was hard work. He seemed greatly troubled be-cause a report had become current that he had attempted suicide by drowning while at Nantucket, saying that his getting into the water was a pure accident. He had cidal intention, and really wanted to recover his health and live. During several months of his depression it has been a great task to his family to take care of him and bear up as low as by any other lines. Order your ship under his seemingly needless melancholy. He appreciated the kindness of his family however, and used to say to them: "You are bearing with me beautifully, but what shall I do? What will become of me?" BURSTED WIDE OPEN.

Britain. CHICAGO, August 10 .- Peter Dahl, who was bitten by a small dog last March, showed symptoms of rabies Monday, and he is in a critical condition to-night. firmed their call on the Eastern lines for the repayment of the emigrant fund exacted from them, and decided to serve notice on the Eastern roads that unless they complied all their tickets would be withdrawn. sion. They propose to adopt a constitution, the principal point of which is a provision for a fund to assist strikers, and one section prescribes the method of inaugurating strikes. They will be known as the Brotherhood of The Irish Convention has probably ad urned sine die, although there remains a number of those who continue the fun. The Convention was unable to get a statement from the Trustees of the fund. The more reputable delegates, including the most O'Meaghan and Condon from Washington, and they have gone home. This Convention practically ends the Clan-na-Gael Society. There is no doubt that honest men were in a majority in the Convention, but they were unable to control the others, hence there was no possibility of harmony. Crowe, in a communication to the Tribune to-night, says the secretaryship in the Clan-na-Gael society has been merely a cloak for the rascality of cormorants who have fastened themseves on the Irish national element. For every dupe they have gained they have lost two good members and gained they have lost two good members and

EAST SAGINAW, MICH., August 10.—About 3:30 o'clock this morning the residence of J. W. Bolling, of this city, was destroyed by fire. His father, Erwin Bolling, sixty-one years of age, endeavored to subdue the flames, was overcome by the smoke, and before help could reach him his body was burned to a crisp. His daughter-in-law was also severely burned about the head and shoulders. Loss, $300 on the furniture and $1000 on the building-the latter insured. About to Go to Pieces. HALIFAX, August 10.—The wrecked steamer Cortes still holds together, but it is doubtful if she can last much longer. The cargo is being removed from the vessel and brought to
